

http://www.biblegateway.com/passage/?search=Ezra%2010:16-44&version=NKJV

A new beginning with God

You can see in Ezra's life how God is true to a faithful servant. It's true that there are many difficulties crossing our paths, but Ezra knew at whose feet he could offload his worries.

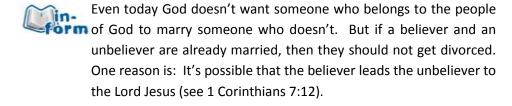

With God's help he was able to bring a people from a wrong path back into fellowship with God. And God took note of their return.

All those who had got into wrong relationships are recorded in the book of Ezra (vv18-44). – God takes note of each and every sin!

How good if you are prepared to break with old habitual sins, as did the relatives of Jeshua (19)!

- 30. What is especially remarkable with regard to the men who separated from their wives (v19)?
- 31. With hindsight, how would you describe Ezra's relationship with God?

Be determined in your heart never to marry an unbeliever!

note

30. The men did it voluntarily, without having to be forced. But they gave their promise to obey God. 31. Suggestion: Ezra was a man w couldn't do anything without God, but could do everything with Him. He showed in his behaviour that he was totally dependent on God.